Amanda Pinto QC, Chair of the Bar: "Although Black History Month in many ways looks back, it is a particularly pertinent time for us all to look forward, to turn words into action and shape a new history for Black people in the legal profession."

Music: Magnificat, Nunc Dimittis and anthem O ye that love the Lord by Samuel Coleridge-Taylor (1875-1912). His father was a Krio from Sierra Leone who qualified as a doctor in London. Coleridge-Taylor's Song of Hiawatha gave rise to the tremendously popular Hiawatha seasons at the Royal Albert Hall, conducted by Malcolm Sargent, which continued till 1939.
